HISTORY OF PRAIRIE VIEW

From its beginning in 1876, Prairie View has had as its purpose of providing for the optimal development of the students it serves. Students at the University represent all sections of the state with the highest percentage coming from southeast Texas. A total of 29 other states and six foreign countries are also represented in the student body of nearly 5,500. The enrollment includes 88 per cent black, 11 per cent white and one per cent other races.

Alta Vista Agricultural College was the first name of the University, established by the 15th Legislature. The opening of the school for Negro youth corresponded with the establishment of Texas A&M University and came under the provisions of the Morrill Land Grant College Act. A three-man commission, working with an initial appropriation of $20,000, purchased the Alta Vista Plantation, east of Hempstead, as the site for the new state institution. The property and affairs of the college were turned over to the A&M College Board of Directors on January 18, 1878.

When the doors opened, the major role was of training public school teachers. The teaching of Military Tactics was included in the original act, just as teacher training and the two have remained important functions of the coeducational school.

The 20th Legislature added an Agricultural and Mechanical Department to the Normal. A branch Experiment Station was also added, resulting from the Hatch Act.

The first name change came in 1899 to Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College and the first four-year college course was authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1901.

The role and scope of the institution came into sharp focus in 1945 when the 49th Legislature changed the name to Prairie View University and authorized the institution to offer, as the need arises, all courses offered at the University of Texas. The 50th Legislature changed the name again — to Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas — authorizing courses equivalent to those offered at the A&M College of Texas.

A final name change came about in the 1973-74 school year to that of PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY indicating a much broader range of programs in teaching, research and community service.

Student development and the University has and will continue to take into account the hard facts concerning the socio-economic backgrounds of students enrolled. For a student clientele characterized by all the limitations that economic poverty brings. Prairie View provides opportunities for socio-cultural development as an integral feature of the students education.

As an institution established to meet the needs of Black Americans and one now serving a predominantly minority clientele, Prairie View is undoubtedly serving a special need of society. The University admits society's "high-risk" students, along with the academically able and socially responsive and has demonstrated success in producing a representative number of competent and mature citizens who are contributing in many ways to the goals of this nation.

FACTS ABOUT THE PRESIDENT . . .

Serving in the position of Acting President of Prairie View A&M University is Dr. Ivory V. Nelson, an avid sports fan and a career educator with impressive credentials.

Dr. Nelson takes time out whenever possible from his busy and varied schedule to attend Prairie View athletic contests both at home and away.

Professionally, he formerly served as vice-president for Research and Special Programs and was named to the position of Acting President at Prairie View June 1, 1982.

Dr. Nelson received his bachelors degree from Grambling State University with a major in chemistry and a minor in mathematics in January of 1959.

He received his doctoral degree from the University of Kansas with a major in analytical chemistry and a minor in mathematics in 1963.

He was on the honor roll at both institutions graduating magna cum laude from Grambling and summa cum laude from the University of Kansas.

The Shreveport, La. native served on the faculties at Grambling, Southern and Loyola and the Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara before joining the Prairie View faculty in 1968 as a professor and Assistant Academic Dean of the University.

He also had worked as a research chemist at American Oil Company and senior research chemist at Union Carbide.

He also spent four years in the United States Air Force attaining the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Dr. Nelson was named professor and Vice-President for Research and Special Programs at Prairie View in September of 1971 and nearly 10 years later attained the top position on the Prairie View campus.

He is responsible for 15 scientific publications and served on four Texas A&M University system wide committees. In addition, he has personally written and has had funded 29 research and educational proposals during the past 13 years at Prairie View, increased the amount of federal funds at Prairie View from $1,946,882 in 1969-70 to approximately $10 million annually while serving as director of Research and Special Programs.

He rose from the rank of Associate Professor to Professor and Vice-President at Prairie View in eight years.

Dr. Nelson's educational philosophy encompasses a wide spectrum of ideals, specifically that "education needs to be more competitive and more attractive in a cooperative setting. Education must establish goals of efficiency, expediency, power, status and success. Education must glory in the privilege of doubt. In education we must realize man's wisdom and understanding are ends in themselves."

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Jim McKinley

Starting a "new day" in football at Prairie View A&M University is Jim McKinley, a 37-year-old with eight years of head coaching experience behind him.

McKinley has turned floundering football programs around at Central State in Ohio and North Carolina A&T University and is embarking on doing the same at Prairie View.

He started his coaching career on a winning note guiding Allegan High School in Michigan to four state championships in the five years he was head coach.

After that successful tenure he moved to Eastern Michigan University as an assistant coach staying two years, then took over the head spot at Central State University in Wilberforce, Ohio. In his first season McKinley guided the Mauraders to a winning season, their first in many a moon.

After a three year stay there he moved to North Carolina A&T for a five-year stay where he logged a 30-26-1 record including a 9-3 mark in 1980 which earned him the honors of Coach of the Year in the Mid Eastern Athletic Conference.

He also took the Aggies to the Gold Bowl that year.

McKinley's teams have been known for their offensive punch and he has taken steps for his first Prairie View team to have that same look, moving many of the top defensive players from last year to the offense.

McKinley played football, basketball and baseball and ran track in high school. At Western Michigan University he played football and was named all conference at tight end in the Mid-American Conference.

He was named to be the 19th football coach at Prairie View in February of this year.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

Coach Jim Hess will be counting on junior college transfers to rebuild the Lumberjack football program. At the top of the list is quarterback Tod Weder from Northeastern Oklahoma Junior College where he was two-time junior college All American. He led the Golden Norsemen to the 1980 national junior college championship and runnerup spot last year. Another juco transfer, John Farris, should provide the needed backup.

New faces will also be in the offensive backfield with sophomore returnee Doug Jefferson as the leading candidate, with transfer Mike Lathan looking strong at the other spot. Two starters — Duan Hanks and Leneal Wilridge — return to the receiver corp. The offensive line is considered one of the Lumberjacks weakest spots. It will be built around returnees Jess Golightly and center Jimmy Neal.

The defensive line is another area Hess will have to rebuild. Three of the five starters missing from last year's team on defense were in the defensive line. Mike Granger is the only returning starter. He made 37 tackles and four quarterback sacks. Transfer Larry Moore and returning letterman Johnny Speake, who switches from the offensive line should battle for the other tackle position.

SEASON OUTLOOK

It looks like another banner year for the NCAA Division II champion Bobcats with coach Jim Wacker extremely high on his offensive line. "Our front seven . . . oh boy, they could be outstanding and I think we'll be solid at both guard spots and center," he boasts.

Place kicker Neal Neunhoffer is a fine place kicker and I think the running back and receiver positions will be sound," he continued. "It's intangible but I think the fact they believe they have a chance to be good is a strength."

Good is an understatement for last year's Bobcats. In addition to winning the national championship the Bobcats were first in NCAA Division II in total offense, third in rushing offense, first in scoring, 11th in total defense, fifth in rushing defense and third in scoring defense.

And the only thing missing is a quarterback. "We don't have any weaknesses — all we have is a bunch of question marks. Our two offensive tackles are untested and Ron Jacoby is untested at quarterback although he produced when called upon last year. We lost our punter and that is a major concern. Replacing cornerbacks Bobby Watkins and Ken Coffey is going to be a big job also."

SEASON OUTLOOK

The Tigers success this year will depend greatly on filling the quarterback void left by Keith Taylor and replacing 11 other starters, especially on offense. "We lost some key people off our team from last year," understates coach W. C. Gordon. "We are going to have a difficult task in front of us replacing them. The quarterback spot will be one spot that we will be looking at real close."

Vying for Taylor's spot are redshirt Derek McCall and freshman John McKenzie. Even with the loss of running backs Larry Cowan and Alvin Flowers, the Tigers ground game is expected to be formidable with Otis Brown back. In three years he has gained 1,076 yards averaging over five yards per carry. Anthony Jenkins and Cleo Simmons head an outstanding corp of receivers.

The strength of the defense lies in a veteran group of defensive backs at one time or another in the defensive backfield. Linebacker Calvin Jahuary is tops there. Thomas Struxghers, an all conference performer, will anchor the defensive line with plenty of help from nose guard Ed Reed, defensive end John Davis, defensive tackle John Jones, defensive end Donnie Graham and defensive tackle Charles Fields.

Bryant Moore, a junior, is expected to handle the place kicking chores replacing graduated All-SWAC performer Randall Lewis.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

Coach Otis Washington is looking for improvement over last season. The Jaguars will return a complete corp of quarterbacks including Norman Gibbs and Kedrick Hogan, the hero of the big one-sided triumph over Grambling. Michael Adams heads a strong list of offensive backfield returnees. Adams rushed 93 times for 595 yards and four touchdowns. Adding depth will be Johnny Hankerson, Aaron Kent and Kent Hurst. Dexter Henderson leads a capable group of receivers and there are lots of veterans in the offensive line.

Washington rates linebacker as the Jaguars strong suit especially with Tyrone Jones returning. The secondary and defensive line is strong with veterans also. Top defensive back returning is Darryl Pringle who will get help from junior college transfer Troy Hancock.

Washington is hoping the momentum that showed in the Grambling game will carry the Jags to loftier heights this season.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

The Tigers went 6-4-1 in 1981, its worst season since the 1959 team went 4-6. But the 1960 squad went 9-1 and coach Eddie Robinson is hoping for that same type turnaround. If so he will pick up his 300th career victory early. He's just three short of that magic mark.

Grambling lost a wealth of seniors, the most notable is quarterback Thomas Ezell but there are a great number of veterans returning led by Heisman Trophy candidate Trumaine Johnson. The 6-3, 190 pounder caught 43 passes last year, six for touchdowns. The offensive line was hard hit by graduation but guard Namon Williams and tackle Clifton Hives provide solid foundations there.

Defensively, Robert Thomas returns for his third straight starting season at right tackle. Vieing to replace departed Arthur King at the other tackle spot are 240-pounder Larry Williams and 6-9, 325 pound James Polk. The secondary will be strong led by all conference cornerback Al Lewis. He had seven interceptions in 1981. Glen Hall is another strong defensive back returning. He had 66 tackles and four interceptions a year ago.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

Coach James Jones contends his young Tigers may have slipped up on a few opponents last year. That won't be the case in 1982. With 18 starters returning Jones quickly boasts, "We've got a good football team. This is the bunch to have a super year."

The Tigers have more depth and talent this year but there are some holes to fill. "We've got to improve our offensive line play. This area concerns me most," Jones said.

Defense has long been Bishop's strong suit. With All American candidate Michael Henderson and Roderick Roberts leading the charge backed up by Reginald Forester, Clarence Johnson and Dwayne Johnson defense again will be the Tigers forte.

A replacement must be found for Kodak All American Carlton Nelson and the secondary needs to replace Dennis DeVaughn. Both were four-year starters.

Offensively the Tigers will be led by senior tailback Harvey Wilburn and quarterback David Parker. Michael Sutton is pressuring Parker for the signal calling position. Parker's receiving corp is intact with junior Michael Gray, senior Michael Pride and Dennis Jester.

The offensive line will miss four-year starter Felton Davenport and freshmen will have to help here.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

Second year coach Vernon Fewell is looking for "continued improvement like we did the last half of the 1981 season."

With 13 seniors returning among the 31 lettermen the Bulldogs will be slightly more experienced but depth must still come from freshmen, reserves and redshirts, Fewell said. The Bulldog strength lies in the receiver corps and with the returning of starting quarterback Mike Cantu. Flanker Carlton Drysdale is another who give Fewell reason for optimism.

Fewell says the weaknesses will be a lack of team speed and overall depth. Defensive leaders are linebacker Gerald Massey, nose guard Hollis Tuerdolla and end Steve Schreen.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

"Defense is our key to a good season," said head coach Archie Cooley, "We'll go as far as they can take us. We are young and small on defense but our attitudes are good and with help from some of our freshmen I believe we'll be able to stop somebody some of the time."

Leading defenders returning include defensive back Alvin Rew, tackle Willie Green and safety Brian Williams. The small down lineman present Cooley with a problem, however.

On the offensive side, most of that unit returns including the top rusher and receiver. With a strong set of quarterbacks returning along with running backs Jerimiah Snowden and wide receiver Jerry Rice, kicker Roy Hutchins that portion could be another team strength for the Delta Devils.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

With experienced offensive and defensive units returning the Golden Lions appear capable of producing another winning season. Last year's 5-4-2 mark was the first since 1971.

Ben McGee will be working with 35 lettermen, including seven starters on offense and nine more on defense. Quarterback Ferryl Jordan heads the list of offensive starters returning. Jordan will be working with a pair of receivers — Anthony Lee and Antwain Lawson — who combined for 45 catches and 861 yards and eight touchdowns last year.

Michael McInnis, a 6-7, 250-pound end, will head the defense. He was named NAIA Honorable mention All American last year. Greg Armour, a 185-pound strong safety is the only returning starter in the secondary. Armour has led the Golden Lions in interceptions the past two seasons and has 20 coming into the season.

Edward Lane and Antwoine Golliday, a pair of seniors, return as starting linebackers. Golliday led the squad in tackles with 95 despite missing two games with an ankle injury.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

The defensive interior line and an array of running backs are unquestionably the Braves' major strengths. The defensive line, led by ALL-SWAC tackle Robert Cole, may be one of the best in the conference, ends Lee Dell Washington and Floyd Lawson provide ample added ammunition. Linebacker Marlon Expose and defensive back Elbert Foules should help retain Alcorn's reputation as the "Tunnel Defense."

Offensively, one of the SWAC's best contingents of running backs return, headed by Gregory Jones, Darnell Toy and Ray Vaughn, the Braves top three rushers from last year. James McFarland completes the backfield at quarterback.

The offensive interior line, may cause problems for coach Casem, especially at center. "We'll be deeper than we were a year ago. Last year was a chaotic situation in that we didn't know who would start where. We certainly hope our crop of freshmen coming in will help us on the offensive line, wide receiver and defensive back slots. These are the positions I really want to come through for us," Casem said.

SEASON OUTLOOK:

The "Rebirth of the Tigers" started last year and with 18 returning starters should be reinforced this coming season.

With all but one starter returning on defense, that appears to be the strength especially the secondary with outstanding players like Dale Sheppard and Edward Owens coming back.

The defensive line is excellent also with end Karl Watson, tackle James Grigsby and end Anthony Anglin.

Offensively, the problem is replacing the backfield, especially running backs Donald Allen and Marion Morgan. But with two quarterbacks on hand the battle is not dismal. The line is solid with tight end Arthul Cox and tackle Boyd Jones.
